"Tis education forms the common mind;
Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."
Alexander Pope--Moral Essays

Congratulations Seniors--At this moment you have attained another level in the pattern of life--you have given twelve years to the search for those fundamental truths and skills so necessary to the individual in his role as a member of a God-fearing, democratic society. Your search, however, is not at an end--indeed, it is just commencing--you will continue to search on higher levels of education and in the larger and more complex world of daily experience until you have grasped sufficient truths to fulfill on a high moral and spiritual plane the obligation of man to man and to society. It is your duty to continue the search for truth begun in these formative years--"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free"--John VIII - 32. To turn from the search for truth--to accept a less arduous, often, what may appear to be, a less painful course of life--is to lack wisdom and courage. William Faulkner in his Acceptance Speech for the Nobel Prize in Literature, 1949 observed concerning man: "I decline to accept the end of man--I believe that man will not merely endure; he will prevail. He is immortal not because he alone among creatures has an inexhaustible voice but because he has a soul, a spirit capable of compassion and sacrifice and endurance." Your search for truth, then, must continue and endure no matter the sacrifice!

And now at this moment, as Principal of Abington High School, and on behalf of the faculty that has guided you in your search over the years, I commend you for your achievement and express the hope that happiness, wisdom, and understanding will be your constant companions as you go through life. Pause now and then and recall your days at Abington High School; just as those whom you leave behind will constantly remember and think with deep affection and concern of the members of the class of nineteen hundred and fifty-seven. In the words of J. G. Holland, let me say in parting:

"God give us men. A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands!"

GOD BLESS YOU.

IN APPRECIATION

In appreciation, love, and friendship the Senior Class of 1957 proudly dedicates this year book to Mrs. Carolyn Ferguson. Mrs. Ferguson, has given many years of loyal and devoted service to the students of Abington High School. She has unselfishly helped our class at all times no matter what was requested of her. She asked no thanks for all the things she has done. Many times she spent late hours at the high school finishing decorations, preparing food, making tickets, or assisting wherever we needed her. There could be no person any more deserving of the dedication of our yearbook. We hope this will be our token of thanks to the most wonderful person at Abington High School.

FACULTY 1956-1957

CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1953 A.H.S. was honored with the appearance of the illustrious, never-to-be-forgotten Class of 1957. During our hectic initiation we were trounced upon by upperclassmen, shoved into empty corners and treated like common ants, but we were determined to hold our own and be heard above the din of seniors' voices and the slamming of locker doors. For our first officers we elected Sue Wheatley, president; Jack Reilly, vice-president; Ricky Brown, secretary; and Skip Sylvester, treasurer. North seemed to be well represented.

No one will ever forget Latin I and Jack Reilly's baby bottles, the windows opened wide in the dead of winter or the long laborious essays which we students were the brunt of.

We soon learned Mr. Pastuszek's bark was worse than his bite. One member of our class will never forget the CO2 extinguisher. She went home with more holes in her clothes than in a piece of Swiss cheese.

Our Freshmen football team gave us a glimpse of the greater heights which they would attain in later years by handing us an undefeated season. A few of our more ambitious girls went on the bus to one of the games. That was the first, last, and only time!

If it hadn't been for Anna Emmons most of the Freshmen boys would have flunked Junior Business.

No one will also forget our Ancient History classes with Mr. Socrates Panichas. The girls certainly won't forget the style shows he put on every day. Upon his departure we showed our loyal devotion by presenting him with initialed black onyx cufflinks.

On the coldest, most miserable night of the year we held our Freshmen Frolic. We had some famous disc jockey from WBET of Brockton. The dance was a complete flop with total returns of

That year we held our class outing at Morton's Park. It poured all day and we ate our soggy lunches on the bus, but we all had an enjoyable time and no one got sunburned.

Following a stormy summer we timidly strolled back to A.H.S. to conquer new horizons. We chose a fine, up-standing group of officers that year with Tom Ashton, president; Billy Reiss, vice-president; Anita Brown, secretary; and Cynthia Swanson, treasurer. Our first victory was the approval of the Senior boys. Everyone knew something "fishy" was going on with the addition of a new member from the ranks of Rockland High.

One of the memorable events of the year occurred when seven of our male classmates took an untimely vacation at the beach. For some mysterious reason their cars got stuck in the sand. While they were frantically dancing about trying to figure a way to get out, the tide rolled in and submerged them all.

We made the rounds of parties that year invited or uninvited. At some we felt like honored guests and at others we felt more like an acute case of poison ivy. At some of our own parties, the girls played "dodge cake" with each other, and the main event of the year was the appearance of little Freddy Bowser in some rather breezy attire.

There were some big bows seen on various individuals around the halls--an original by the Class of '57. Teachers were wondering whether traffic regulations should be changed from double file to single file because of the congestion caused by the appearance of hoops which resulted in confusion and chaos--but certainly were interesting. We also had an epidemic of black Bermudas which spread like wildfire throughout the school.

The event of the year was the unexpected visit of a certain girl to the boys' lockersroom. Unexpected to her as well as to the boys!

In the month of April we held our fabulous Sophomore Hop. The decorations were said to be the best yet, and how could we miss with what we had to work with. The theme was "April Showers" and the Sophomores were considered all wet when no orchestra appeared. But we did win some honor that year when the girls walked off with the GAA sports plaque.

As the summer approached we held our annual outing at Charge Pond. For the second time, we again sang "Stormy Weather" as everyone got drenched. We borrowed a broiler and some food from a friendly lady to replenish our wet supplies and all ended on a very happy note.

CLASS OF 1957

In 1955 we joyously returned as Juniors. Now that we were bonafide upperclassmen we could exercise some power. For the third consecutive year we elected a spectacular group of officers consisting of Tom Ashton, president; Mike Maney, vice-president; Joanne Hall, secretary; and Jim Weatherbee, treasurer. That year we also had five distinctive additions to our class as well as numerous subtractions.

One of the most unusual of a long series of "hen parties" was the one at which Marka Maney found an interesting, but unique, use for two long-stemmed glasses.

A certain group of boys decided that school had become too much for them and so they took a vacation in the middle of the school day. Unfortunately it was shortened by a long detention where refreshments were served with the aid of a long, long string. Ah, those loyal Junior girls!

Of course the big event of the year, which we were breathlessly awaiting, was our Junior Prom. It was the most splendid dance ever put on at Abington High. The decorations were so spectacular that all were left starry-eyed. Jean Alesio and Dickie Boynton reigned over the Prom as Queen and King. After the Prom we went to the Capeway Manor where lobster, steak, and chicken reigned supreme. We had almost as much fun the next day taking down the decorations as we had putting them up.

Those unbeatable Class of '57 girls took the GAA plaque for the second consecutive year. Everyone now realized that our class seemed to click as a team in everything we undertook. Concrete evidence of this clinched that opinion in our Senior year.

Spring had come, summer was around the corner, and our class outing was once again here. We decided to go to Powder Point. It was a beautiful day and was so hot, that miracle of miracles, school was let out early. Between coke, potato chips, sandwiches, and sunburn, we all had a glorious time.

After a hard-working summer we returned to assume our position of supremacy--ASSUME! This year we elected another fine slate to govern us. Tom Ashton, president; Dick Boynton, vice-president; Joanne Hall, secretary; and Jim Weatherbee, treasurer; were the winners.

At the first of the year our football team showed the greatness which had been foretold as early as our Freshmen year. With untiring labor and an infinite amount of talent, Coach Pastuszak and Coach D'Marzio directed our boys through a wonderful undefeated season--the first in about ten years! In honor of our boys and to show the great pride we all took in them, Mr. Lindquist, the Lions Club, Mr. & Mrs. Reilly and Mr. & Mrs. Ashton all gave dinners. The Annual Football Banquet was a more than successful affair and upon leaving the hall all you could see was a mass of kelly green jackets and the gold glitter of trophies.

The Christmas party in Mr. Morey's room was as lively as it has always been. Dave Corcoran stole the show with his surprise present which if real would have rocked the room.

Our Winter Carnival was mighty cold. The decorations, which were unusual, had the added and unexpected touch of blue dresses in a field of blue noses thanks to Jack Frost and his boys.

This year Cupid bit hard and scattered diamonds here, there, and everywhere. This was a foretelling of many June brides. On the other side of the ledger, Connie Gregory became the Casanova of our romantic minded group. He also added some dynamite to our Physics class but it exploded in his face and he ended in the farthest corner of the room.

Our class party was a huge success. It was directed by Maida Perry Arnold and with a talent she has, we couldn't help but be great. After the play, actors and friends went out to eat and to buy newspapers to read the reviews.

Come spring, the girls began to go to the beach and acquire tans for the coming reception. Of course we all went through the frostbitten and sunburned stage, but finally managed to come out looking golden brown.

We are now nearing the end. After four glorious years we all realize what a large part teachers, friends, and school have played in our lives. As we leave our beloved high school we hope that our class can live up to the history they have so far made. It is said that history repeats itself, so we can only hope we go through life as undefeated as our football team. But come what may, Abington High School has given us the foundation to stand on. The rest is up to each and everyone of us.

CLASS WILL

WE THE CLASS OF 1957 having formed a perfect class in four years, having established justice throughout the school, having insured our peace of mind concerning ranks, having provided for our defense whenever our class is in danger, having promoted the general welfare of the faculty; do now make our last will and testament being of unsound mind and decrepit body and bequeath to:

"Jean Alesio--A ton of boys so she will always have a 'Boyn-ton'!"

"Bobo Ashton--An Alarm clock with a built-in raceway so he'll beat the 8 o'clock bell."

"Punch Badger--A boxing glove for his famous 'One Punch'."

"Lilybet Berry--A box of book matches and a pocketbook with a secret compartment."

"Dickie Boynton--An automatic can-picker-upper so the boys don't gum up the 'works' AGAIN!"

"Fish Bowser--A year's supply of M.F.Q.R.F.F.T. which means Mother Fletcher 's Quick Remedy for Fish Twitches and a bottle of Veto-Anti-Fish Deodorant."

"Iggy Brown--A 'Skip' rope so she will always be in the run of things."

"Rough and Ready Brown--A pair of blinders so he can find his way to the rickety red kennel where he parks his dogs'."

"Smash Bush--A bushel of handy "Dan-dy' -cante-Lopes".

"Full of Blush Hanson--a tape recorder so she will not have to stand up in class."

"Katie Hansen--a year's supply of noisemakers so we will know she is around."

"Hairy Harris--a new jimmy engine for his 'Chevy'."

"Rainy Hunter--a private showing of the movie 'The Wight Hunter'."

"Joanie Hutcheon--the hopes she will get her bookkeeping straight."

"Margie Johnson--a subway to Macri's in South Weymouth."

"Mo Johnson--a one station radio turned to Weatherbee the B. Z. weatherman in hopes the forecast will always be bright."

"Squeak Johnson--a free pass to all the amusements at Nantasket."

"Blondie Kelleher--Dagwood and a pack of bloodhounds with hopes she'll find what she wants in life."

"Dave Kalinowski--a soft pillow for study hall."

"Red Kendall--a little brown RICKshaw that she can propel."

"Green Kelly--a kelly green nurse's cap and uniform to match."

"Loo Loo Lewis--a risburger with hopes that she'll ketch-up."

"Link Lindquist--a one way ticket to Sweden and the record "Don't Be Too Cruel."

"Cookie MacLaren--a year's supply of Mary Jane Cookies and a large supply of Peter Paul Mounds."

"Gabby Monahan--a book entitled HOW TO GET YOUR SHORTHAND DONE ON TIME."

"Vinnie Celino--A ladder so he will never have trouble reaching the 'Rain Tower.'"

"Bomber Cheverie--A modern Noah's Ark--key."

"Always on the go Corcoran--A flexible hat for climactic changes."

"Marilyn Crawford--A copy of LOVE IS A MANY SPLENDORED THING and eternal happiness to go with it."

"Margie Donovan--National Presidency of the Grange."

"Jackie Duncanson--Peter Pan's everready Tingley bell."

"Busy bee Emmons--A one-way ticket to Wyoming."

"Keep your eyes on Forrand--A Passport to Danger--if he dares."

"Jolly Freeman--A duplicate set of keys to her mother's car and an underground entrance to the garage."

"Wheel Freeman--An automatic pencil pushed so he won't get tired doing all his homework."

"Dodo Fuller--The record 'Anchors Aweigh' with the hopes HE won't be away too long."

"Greg Gervais--More dates with a certain girl and the hope that the news will not get all over town."

"Smiles Gregory--A secret car for his duplicate key and a date for every night of the week."

"Small Hall--A reverse pair of binoculars so she can always see 'Small.'"

"Always fair Hammond--A book case of "Spillane's mysteries to occupy her evenings."

"Weeds Hatch--A pair of swimming goggles so she can see through the weeds while swimming."

"Mars Marcotte--his own empire so he can be King Cole."

"Johnny MacNeil--a radio for his Henry J."

"You Foolish Thing McCarthy--a permanent dog barrier, and an ash can."

"Dave McIver--a second chance at D'Amato's and Bush's."

"Sandy Meserve--"Stephenson" buttons for the next election."

"Queenie Newburn--bomb sights with luck in her future as a "Bombardier."

"Hotrod Noyes--an engine for his ready-built hot rod and the title "Hot-Rodder of the Year."

"Clid Omar--a position in the Foreign Legion as chief tentmaker."

"Peaches and Cream Peach--a calendar where September comes right after June."

"Prudence Peaslee--a hearing aid with a book entitled WHAT DID YOU SAY?"

"By the Bushel Peck--membership in the D'Amato's Fan Club and a peck of girls."

"Fifi Pfyffer--an automatic pop corn popper and a carrier for special use in drive-ins."

"Cyn Pierce--bread and gel-ly and all the happiness in the world."

"Gail Pike--a heating system for her cottage on cold winter nights."

"Rile Reilly--A box of wild cherry life savers, an automatic ring remover, and a record of "Honest it wasn't me."

"Billy Reiss--All the Eddie Fisher's Coke Shows and the rights to Debbie Reynolds."

"Goofy Reynolds--Honorary membership in the Mickey Mouse Club."

"Roy Risberg--A gold plated cue stick and a private cheering section at the basketball games."

"Punchie Shanks--The other boxing glove so she'll have an even match."

"Butch Slinger--The record "Confidential As a Church at Twilight" by the Four Church Keys."

"Harvey Small--Full Time job as Manager of Robert Hall's so his future will be secure."

"Dickie Stimpson--A little black book so he can keep all his dates straight."

"Joanne Stonkus--A glorious July and a key to the future."

"Strommie Strom--A guest appearance on "This Is Your Life", and a book entitled THE ART OF DEBATE WITH Mr. MOREY."

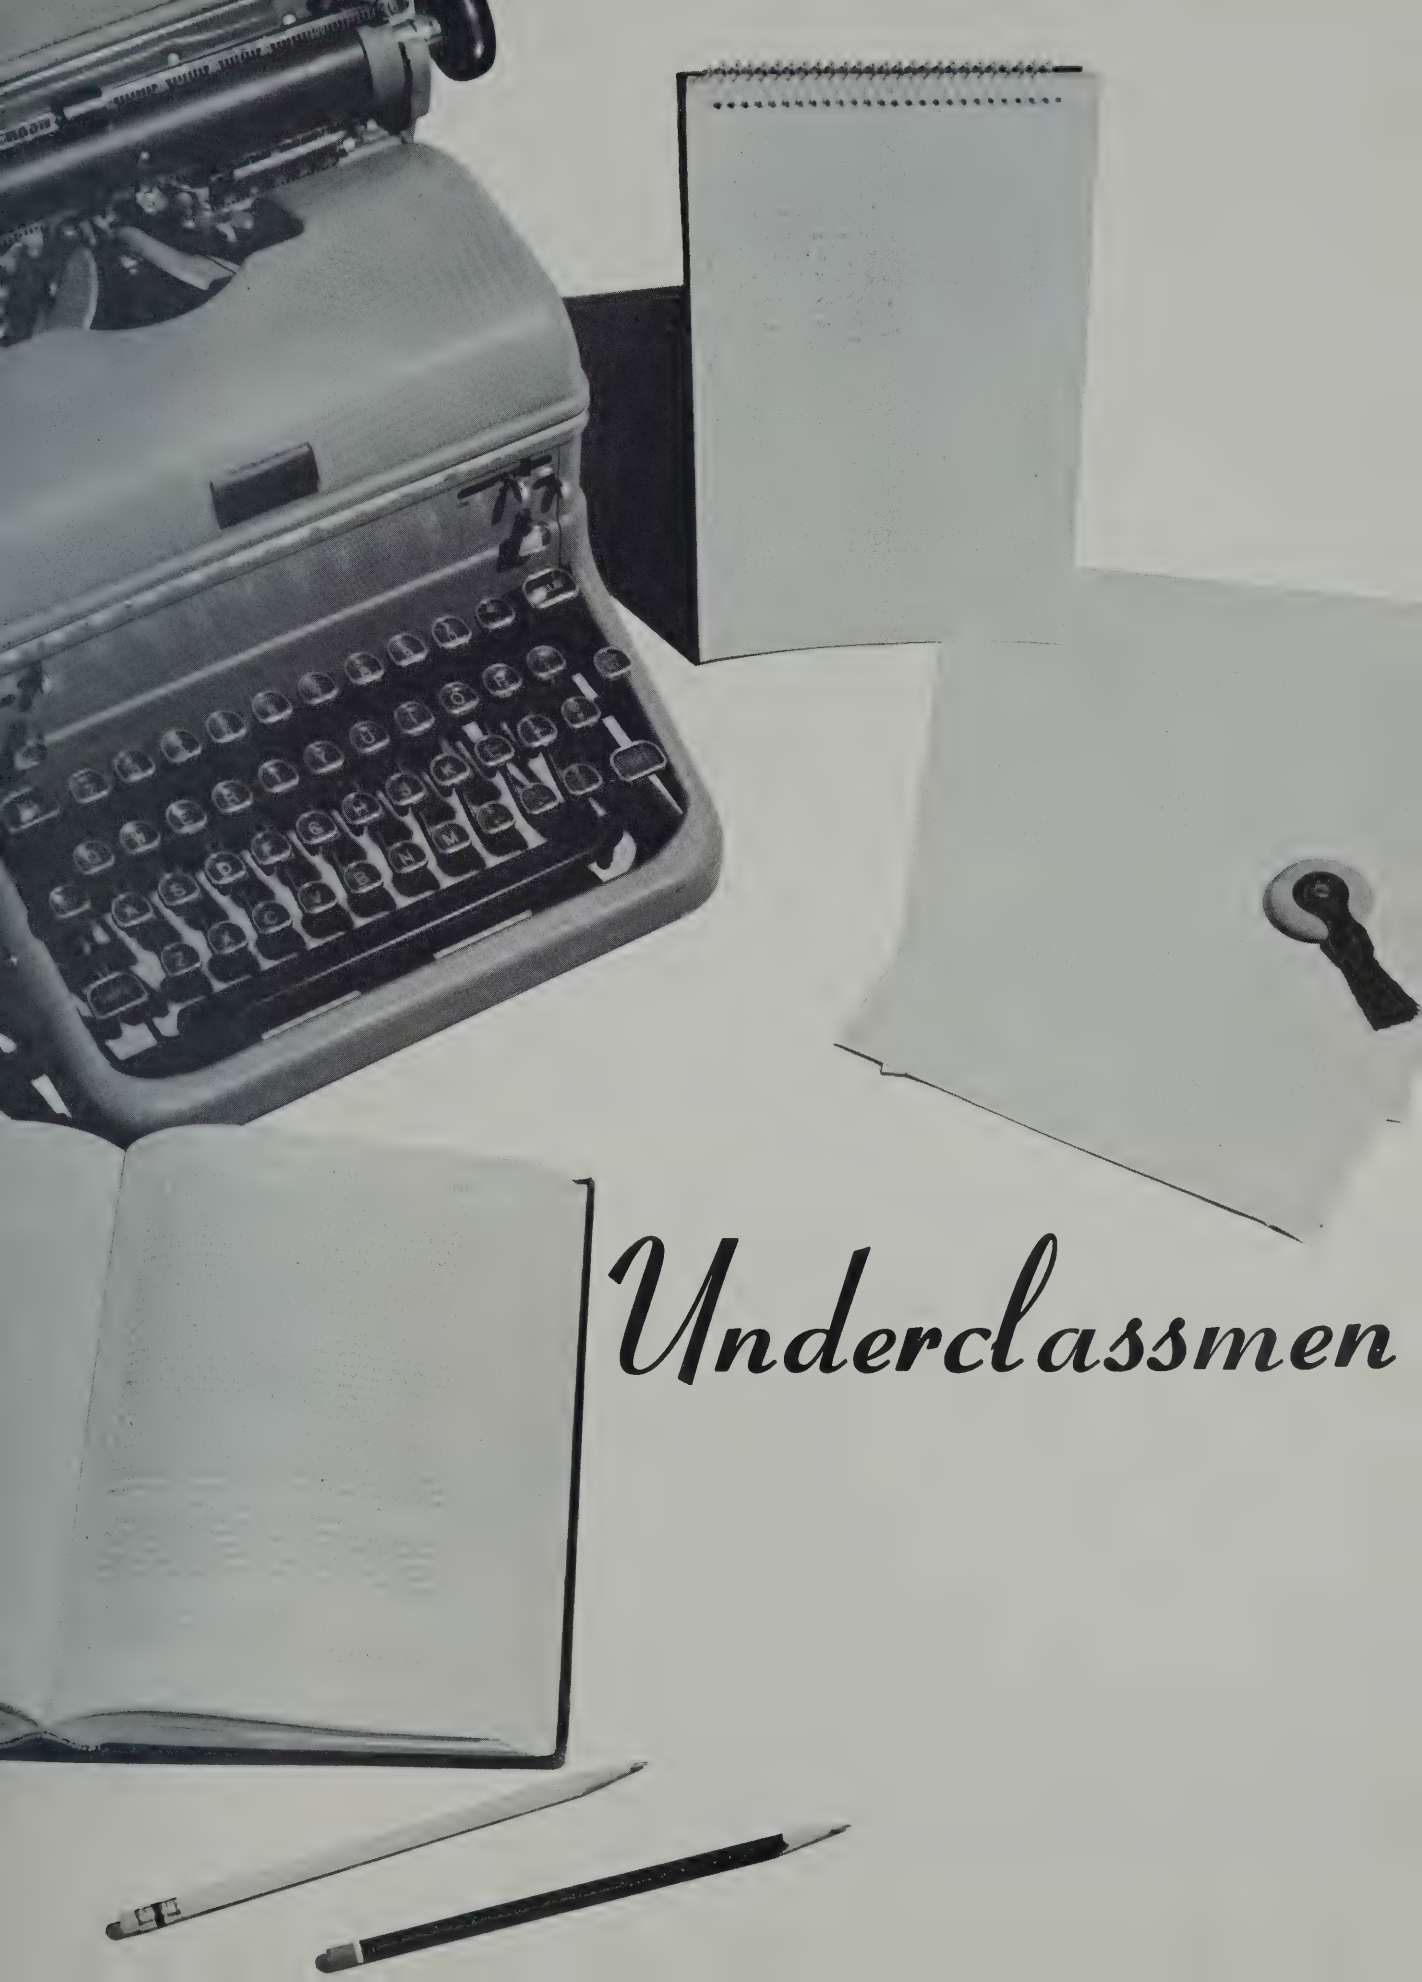

"Bobby Swan--A new Ford to go with his radiator cap."
 "Cyn Swanson--A part on the T.V. program, "Father Knows Best."
 "Skip Sylvester--The record "It's a Sin To tell a Lie" and a seasons pass to Raynham Park."
 "Ev Tingley--National chairmanship of the Democratic Party and M.I.T. on a silver platter."
 "Barbie Tirrell--An everlasting friendship with Joyce Freeman."
 "Turtis Curner Turner--Official barrister of A.H.S."
 "Never on time Smith--A reserved space in "Dear Abbey," so her problems will always be solved."
 "Large Tyni--A lifetime pass to B.C."
 "Storm Weatherbee--A new battery so he can start his car in the morning and a piggy bank in which to keep the Senior Class Funds."
 "Humphrey Whitaker--A new body for his old engine so he can go back and forth to Progressive Engineering."
 "Lorraine Woodbury--A beauty salon and all the clients she can use."
 Despite the fact that the class of '56 wanted Mr. Morey to find some new jokes, we like the old ones, so now 3 cheers for Mr. Morey.
 To Mrs. Rosen--We leave a year's supply of choco-mint and coffee life savers.
 To Sam, "Sam, the dissect man," we leave the little cut-ups and presidency of the National Association for Science Fair Directors.
 Junior Class--Smaller shoes for they certainly won't be able to fill ours.
 Sophomores--We leave the advice to learn to rush in where the Juniors fear to tread and shears to rid A.H.S. of "D.A.'s"
 Freshmen--We leave the power to be as good as some of them think they are and to the rest the power to be as we think they are."
 Mr. "G"--We leave an electronic brain so that he may solve all his school problems electronically."
 Miss Nero--A set of assistant secretaries, and an orchid for being such a good sport to our class."
 "We give the class of '56 away, to the lowest bidder."
 "Mr. Hastings--The position of head stool sticker at Embraceable U."
 "Mr. Darwin--A long career at A.H.S. and some moustache wax."
 To all future dance committees we leave a skeleton key to Mrs. Ashworth's art supplies."
 "Before departing the Senior girls would like to give back to the Class of 1955, Herbie Holbrook and parties."
